

PATIENT CONSENT – EDUCATION, TRAINING
RESEARCH AND QUALITY STUDIES

We are involved in education and training activities for medical students, postgraduate trainees and others in gastroenterology and related medical fields.

We are also involved in research and quality studies, which assist us to improve our processes, procedures and treatments.

We, and our staff and consultants, work with other organisations in relation to education, training, research and quality studies, including the Gastroenterological Society of Australia (GESA).

Information in relation to you and your treatment and outcomes may be used in these activities. We endeavour to use de-identified information as much as possible, but sometimes may use identifying information, and in such cases, seek to protect and preserve the confidentiality of that information as much as possible.

By signing this consent you authorise us and GESA to use your information strictly for these purposes. We will use information on a confidential basis, only for these purposes.

You may opt out of these arrangements in the future by written notice to us.
